

VELL

Representative Vell Placement

teradici®

JIM NOBLE MEMBER OF THE BOARD OF DIRECTORS

Jim Noble is Vice President of Strategy & Operational Excellence at British Petroleum. He was formerly managing director, Global Infrastructure Solutions, Merrill Lynch. In this position, he was the senior IT executive for the company.

Before joining Merrill Lynch, Mr. Noble was vice president and CIO responsible for global information technology at Altria Group, the parent company to Kraft Foods, Philip Morris USA, Philip Morris International and Philip Morris Capital Corp. He was also the CEO of TecWorks LLC, the in-house shared services unit which helps serve Altria's subsidiaries with their IT demands. Before Altria, Mr. Noble was SVP and CIO at AOL Time Warner.

Prior to AOL Time Warner Jim had been with General Motors Corp, where he was based in Detroit as Chief Technology Strategy Officer, following his role as CIO of General Motors International, where he was responsible for all IT activities outside of North America.

Jim is a visiting lecturer at Columbia University, President of the NY Chapter of the Society for Information Management (SIM), and President-Elect of the SIM global organization.

About Teradici Corporation

Teradici PCoIP technology is deployed throughout virtual and cloud environments, in zero clients, hardware accelerators, standalone workstations and mobile devices. Simple, green, and cost-effective, the Teradici PCoIP virtual workspace architecture delivers a secure, high-definition, highly responsive computing experience.

Teradici customers benefit from a broad PCoIP ecosystem of innovative products and services. Our customers include Fortune 500 enterprises and institutions around the world, local and federal government agencies, and cloud and service providers.

Teradici was founded in 2004, and is headquartered in British Columbia.