

Representative Vell Placement

EUGENIA GILLAN
VP, ENGINEERING

Eugenia is an experienced engineering leader with a passion for delivering organizational excellence and enabling innovation in high-performing teams. We placed Eugenia at Performix / NICE in 2008 and she has done very well there and since. She is formerly with Zoominfo, Nice (Performix) and Wildfire. Eugenia is now with Jibo, the social robot company.

About Perfomix Technologies (division of NICE)

Performix Technologies is a provider of employee performance management software solutions. The company's products include Performance Manager, which enables managers and supervisors to break free from spending hours on consolidating spreadsheets and reports from various systems by supplying a single and integrated performance scorecard; Evaluation Manager, which provides online evaluation forms, automated form routing with timers and reminders, questions, routings, and processes; and Development Manager, which automates the management of various assets in a single application.

Performix Technologies serves telecommunications, finance, utilities, and retail and entertainment industries. It has strategic partnerships with IBM, BusinessObjects, and Active Endpoints. The company was founded in 1998 and is headquartered in Burlington, Massachusetts.