

Representative Vell Placement

VINCENT DE PALMA MEMBER OF THE BOARD OF DIRECTORS

Shred-It President and CEO Vince De Palma has been appointed to the Board of Directors of FleetMatics, a leading global provider of fleet management solutions for commercial fleet vehicles delivered as software-as-a-service (SaaS), effective November 26, 2013. De Palma has been CEO of global information security company Shred-it since 2009. His experience managing a global company for which fleet and service worker optimization is an operational imperative makes him a natural fit for the Fleetmatics Board Director position.

Jim Travers, Fleetmatics CEO and Chairman of the Board, said of the new appointment, "Given that Shred-it delivers its service via a sizeable global fleet, and given Vince's experience in managing that fleet at peak operational efficiency over the past five years, there is no question that his domain expertise will be a value-add to our Board. Vince joins an already-strong team of like-minded, strategic business leaders who continue to drive Fleetmatics forward with incredible speed and success."

Prior to Shred-it, De Palma was President at Pitney Bowes Management Services and Executive Vice President, Pitney Bowes, Inc. from 2005-2009. Prior to that, De Palma was President of Benefit Services and Corporate Vice President, Automatic Data Processing, Inc. (ADP) from 1999-2005.
